Sunday Night Guest Speaker 8:00 PM Red Canyon Rooms

Ben Behunin began working with pottery as a freshman at Highland High.

He thought it would be an “easy A”, but his experience proved to be neither easy, nor an “A”. That experience began a 24 year long dance with the clay that has taken Ben to exotic places, such as Idaho, North Carolina, France, Switzerland, Germany, England, Italy, Austria and Hawaii in pursuit of his education and his passion. For the past 17 years, Ben has been making his living exclusively as a slinger of slime and a maker of mudpies.!

In 2009, after nearly twelve years of being a closet-writer, Ben published the first of his Niederbipp Trilogy, Remembering Isaac, the wise and joyful potter of Niederbipp. This was followed by Discovering Isaac later in 2009 and Becoming Isaac in 2010. Borrowing Fire, was released in December 2012. His newest book, Put a Cherry On Top was released December 2013. He is currently working on forty-seven other books that may be released sometime in the next fifty years if he can overcome his ADD. ! Ben is the father of two young budding potters, Isaac and Eve, ages 12 and 10. He and his wife Lynnette live in Salt Lake City, just inches away from his whimsically magical studio, Wild Rooster Artworks.
